Felt

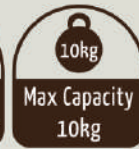

Felt is a non woven textile. It is made by compressing and matting fibres together until they connect to form a sturdy fabric. Felt has been used in many cultures as a material for clothing, footwear, rugs and even tents.

Today, felt is used in many craft projects. One of the reasons behind the renewed popularity of felt for use in crafts is its sheer versatility.

A wooden-framed sign with a light-colored background. The sign contains the text 'Other Material' in a large, bold, italicized serif font. Below it, the materials '210D Nylon', '600D Polyester', and 'Lamination Bag' are listed in a smaller, bold, sans-serif font. In the foreground, to the left of the sign, is a small potted plant with purple and green succulent leaves in a dark grey, textured pot. The entire scene is set on a light-colored wooden surface.
